AEC – Comments on objections to changes to Victorian boundaries electoral boundaries

12 / 07

As a resident of Malvern East, I am extremely concerned that a boundary change may be split along Burke Road. This makes no sense, as the community on both side is strong and identifies as such. Tooronga road makes more sense, as it would keep community and commercial services a bit closer united.

The community around Central Park especially is a single one – splitting this into different electorates would be a ridiculous thing to do.

I am already in fierce objection to the proposal to get rid of Higgins – this is a terrible idea. If you are proceeding down this pathway, then at least put as much as it a possible into the one seat – ie more of Higgins into Chisholm - so my voice is not further diluted.

Yours sincerely,

Phillip Starkins
