Dear Australian Electoral Commission,

After thorough consideration of the various community submissions and objections, I strongly recommend that the AEC reevaluate its decision to abolish the electorate of Higgins. The submissions emphasize its historical importance and excellent transport links.

In my opinion, the electorate of Hotham should be abolished instead. It lacks a cohesive community of interest, is divided among local government areas, and is named after an historical figure.

Should Higgins not be preserved, I urge you to consider extending Chisholm westward to incorporate as much of the Higgins electorate as possible.

Thank you for taking my contribution into account.
